

Collograph, a printmaking process—to glue layers together to create a plate that we will then ink and print. We will use matt board as our base layer and other papers to create different textures just 1 layer deep.

Your inspiration is text—specifically, initials, peace, love, joy, kindness. You may choose any “artistic” form of writing (calligraphy) to create your image.

Remember, prints are fancy stamps. When planning you must reverse the image so that it prints correctly and we can read it.

We will be working in a 5” square format. You have one day to design (in your sketchbook) and construct the plate. See Ms. Cave for a sample, your board, cardboard, X-acto blade and additional glue.
